

Sherwood

Section 5 - Landscape Guidelines

Species List Sherwood

Dominant Species

Other Species Present

The following list includes native tree and shrub species that are commonly found within Sherwood and are suitable for inclusion in planting schemes. These are important for determining the area's regional character. A range of other native species may also be appropriate to particular locations or sites. In these cases professional advice should be sought. A list of organisations able to provide such advice has been included at the back of this manual.
